M. SINADINO'S FIRST OPERA.

YESTERDAY'S DRESS REHEARSAL.

YESTERDAY'S DRESS REHEARSAL.

It was yesterday our privilege to attend the dress rehearsal of La Degarases, a S-act opera composed by M. N. Sinadino, with the book by M. V. Sinadino, with the book by M. V. Sinadino, both such prominent members of Alexandrian is distinguished to the body the members of Alexandrian is confessed in the series of the composer. This being sayes understand, the composer's first opers, it was exarely, to be expected that the series of the control of the work above to meet a falling away, on the side of creative gasins. We have here a production replete with all the "outward and visible signs" of great opers, its chirch some with the interpersion of balle, and its tragic finale, but all these ingredients are such as require by Ge scored with swelping ower and vivid contrast, and we swetter to hink that M. Sinadino, does not altageather as the series of the ser and the clarious (Acel III) in Tamektaser. Then the chorce of Vecentiare denouncing Stellin is very much on the lines of the climar of Acel III of the same opera, even to the positions taken up by the performers. All this, however, in no way detracts from the many exceedingly good effects which M. Sitandino obtains in this second act. The contrain rises to a graceful minest air, but with the appearance of the Dogaresas, who has a pretty solo, the music becomes more complex, with an undeconvent of strong motif. The earty of the Dogaresa of the complex of the complex of the contraint of the complex of the complex of the contraint of the complex of the contraint of the complex of the contraint of a valse movement and savouring somewhat of Drury Lena. The act proceeds with the discovery of Stellio's indiscretions and his consequent disgrace, and terminates with the flight of the Dogaressa after her lower.

To Act III, there is a very beautiful overtore, exquisitely rendered under Sig. Zioconsi's bitton. It is seel or coherated and proved one of the finest portions of the opera. The scene is now haid on the terrace of 28 Pallamo by night and we find the Dogaressa awaiting Stellion who arrives, rather tardily, and his restless having eventually been discovered, he is stabled by order of the Dogaressa awaiting Stellion who arrives, rather tardily, and his restless having eventually been discovered, he is stabled by order of the Dogaressa waiting Stellion and the Dogaressa waiting Stellion and the stellion and the property of the stellion and the stellion an HELOUAN RACES.

FIRST WINTER MEETING.

Firê, clear westher, and a warner sun than had been felt for weeks to ast marked the first Winter Meeting of the H. S. C., and it was not surprising that the races were capitally attended, while the sport itself was, very fair, though these were no possibility acting finishes, and the Pari Mutuel did not pay wonderfully well for places, though the backers of Lakik (or Rais) for a win in the third race were well rewarded. 'Among though the backers of Lakik (or Rais) for a win in the third race were well rewarded. 'Among though the backers of Lakik (or Rais) for a win in the third race were well rewarded. OUR LONDON LETTER.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDERY).

(Guess Jupiter suit perders — whom Jore, would destroy he first deprives of essace. The saying's wors, but no other meets the case of C.B. With inconcivable oundour and self-destructive obstincts he outlined at the Albert Hall last right note a policy as the British Espite has naver been, sabed to consider, save in rightnares. This Liberal programue is simplicity itself. Our amments, the pledges of peace which the strong man armed can provide, the means, which mades possible the successful foreign policy of Lord Landowne (which C.B. fands so "Dessants" an outlook) and the many abitraction treaties concluded by the Unionist Administration, are nottook) and the many abitraction treaties concluded by the Unionist Administration, are to be reduced. Free Trade is to take their place, and war is to be avoided, not by the knowledge that we can defind our own interests, but by our power to buy eff our enamies with calarged opportunities for "dumping." And this is C.B.'s answer to Mr. Ballour and Mr. Chamberlain.

and Mr. Unamoprism in one to know that Lord Kitchener is directly threatened, that trade unions are to be granted immunity from the legal restrictions placed on the conductor of control of the district of the conductor of the district of the conductor of the co separatist haven which is Home Rule.

With excellent judgment and good tasts Lord Curson has declined the invitation to stand for the '0ity. It was conveyed to him in terms of the highest compliment, and, was blicked by the signatures of men whose sames speak, for themselves, as representing the finance and commerce of London, 119 was, indeed, a great sumptation, but Lord Chron has, as might have been expected of plion, riven separior to it, and has set an example which lesser persons would do well to follow. Bather than the action should be a source of unbarrassment 'to political parties, or 'excentable 'difference', which it would be his 'single aim to units,' he forgoes a migue opportunity of returning to public life, under couplitions or appreciative of his character as a man and a high efficial.

ana, and a high cfinial.

I am not surprised that ford Welly, when questioned or Roadey as to the fall in County Council stock, replied that the could not give a satisfactory assers. While Council have fallen II per sent in the last nine months, London County Council recording by the West State of the Council stock, replied that the very far from "satisfactory," is, even to the financial stock, and the explanation, while was financial in a timely fashion by the proceedings of the Council tiself yesterday Asterioscot. The sums voted as this single sitting included £159,000 for the State of the Council tiself yesterday afterioscot. The sums voted as this single sitting included £159,000 for the State of the Council tiself yesterday for whether decisional brildings—making, with odds and sqds, a total discoverement of £700,000 for council of the weekly $2,000 per to the afternoon. And this takes no account, of course, of the weekly $2,000 per to the afternoon. It is not surprising that the judicious investor should look ably at the serped a monticipality which is only happy when it is throwing money about.

Mr. George Herring's gift of £100,000 will enable the Salvation Army to work out an experiment in "farm colonies" which should prove of the highest importance. It is of much significance that the money is only a lean as far as the Salvation Army is concerned—being ultimately payable by instalments to the King's Hospital Fund—for this implies that it is hored to condect the undertaking on commercial lines, and to replace the capital intact after/setting the scheme in operation. If this programme can really be lofflind, it will mark a great advance in practical sociology.

We must adapt Macaolay's famous commodrum and inquire to-daywhether, as civilisation advances, fecondity declines. According to Drs. Newsholme and Stevenson, who discoursed on the subject of birth-rates to the Statistial Society on Teasday, the augmentation of the race is slowing down nearly everywhers. Iroland is the only country in which the oradles are being kept more busy than formerly, while the rest of the world is applying the philosophy of "comfort" in a way that has a marked infleence upon statistics. It is some consolation to know hat, while the English birth-rate is 17 per cent. hower than treasty-two years ago, that does not hoppens and Saxony have each got a decrease of 24 per cent. against them: We must adapt Macaulay's famous conun

It is interesting to note that the Ireland and Graven scholar for this year at Oxford is a Rh-dus scholar. It is a proof of the soundness of Mr. Cecil Rhodes' scheme, and of the excellent myerial hitherto lying dormant in the outlying parts of the Rampire Indeed, efforts are already being made in other Universities to give secouragement to colonials to graduate. That they will hold their own in the athletic world may be deduced from the fact that three of the Oxford fifteen in the 'Varsity match of this year were from South Africa. Indeed, from the cartenordinary, success of the New Zes-lander, it is probable that undergraduates will come from the cologies to teach, not to learn, in this respect.

There is a locus classions of a reporter, having to transcribe his notes on a speech on advaction, as great-speed, writing "kids" throughout instead of "shiftens." As is very commonly doon, he had pased the shorter term through his notes to save time. Existly the same thing his happened is the last speech of Lord Durham's. He describes his horrer at inding hisself reported as "feering to Mr.
Ukamberlain throughout as "doesph" and "Joey." It was caplained that the reporter had written "Joe," and a sub-editor added the "y." A conswhat similar mistake has sometimes been made in mentioning the names of speakers. A reporter, ignorant of the names of those on the platform, often puts down some personal obscratching for feature, and inquires the name afterwards. A reporter recently forgot to make the inquiry, and the speaker figured as "Mr.
Clabfoct."

In reading this description of the defects of the Arab character we are reminded of the recently published and remarkable work of Mr. Phillips on this deserve, with its subtle analysis of the Arab. The Arab is the oternal individualist, the actitizens of the ciricen. He is terrible in his modden explosions of nervous energy, sterrible as the desert, bet he cannot endore, and, like the desert, be on destroy—but never build. His mind has brilliance and writtense, but net the cannot entry be to never build. His mind has brilliance and writtense, but net the profined his parallels Mr. Phillips is far fetched and fantation, but in the main his brilliant analysis carries convisition, when he trapse throughout the history of Mohamedanism the desert spirit which stops short of all complete achievement and endaring civilisation. It has the force of a destroying angle, but it goes anddenly as it comes:—"Orthodox Mohamedanism, resking as it does of the desert, emergicia and militant, yet failing in jout the qualifier which stops achieved the contraction of the desert, emergetic and militant, yet failing in jout the qualifier which styne destribe are deserted.

Letter from Sir Risdolf von Slatin.

Dear Mr. Ward.—Your delightful and most interesting look as tills Bodan has rasched me. I congratulate you heartily on the excellent manner in which the work is written and illustrated. All of us who have done our little best to regenerate the country, after its purples best to regenerate the country, after its purples have to receive more than it draftment at your hands. I don't suppose anyme realises more than I do the change that has come over the Sudan since my old and tyrannical master the Khalifi disappeased from the scenes. Your description of the Teace and Trografe is, in fact, a sequal to my Tire and three of the Sudan.
